Spring Cleaning Economies—Vegetarian Supper—Taste in Gloves, Their Care and Selection—Buy Reliable Make—Recipes.

SPRING CLEANING ECONOMIES.

Editor Standard Woman's Page: Spring housecleaning time always means a good place for us to practice economy and help reduce the cost of running our home. All our good draperies and curtains, rugs, and carpets are thoroughly cleaned and then carefully put away for the summer. To replace the former I use cheaper material that will wash easily and still look well after repeated visits to the tub. For the floors we use matings and simple rag and braided rugs.

Ten cent cheesecloth will make pretty curtains with an addition of val or tordion edging, and will cost less than a dollar a pair. Plain serim at 25 cents a yard will look well if split and edged with some suitable lace or novelty braid and hung straight at the sides of the windows. Besides these materials wash well and will last for several summers with proper care, while the resultant light and cool rooms add another good feature to their use. The more expensive hangings are thus given an added lease on useful existence. The same is true of good floor and furniture coverings.

"Our house never looks bare, but it does look cool and clean, and the whole family profits by the change in health and comfort, and finally, our house-furnishing bills are quite materially lessened by thus taking care of the good things we do have."

VEGETARIAN SUPPER

Decorate the tables with centerpieces of fruit upon lettuce leaves. Use natural dishes wherever possible. Carrots may be scooped out to serve as candle holders; "crapefruit baskets" may be cut to hold the sugar. Cabbage hollowed out may be used for the salad. Cucumbers halved will hold pickles; green peppers may serve as salt holders, and potatoes scooped out to hold olives. A vegetable menu follows:

Vegetable soup, boiled macaroni, hot potato salad, whole wheat bread, Waldorf salad, sliced tomatoes, lettuce, French dressing, wafers, baked apples, fresh fruit, coffee.

To make the hot potato salad wash six medium sized potatoes of uniform size and cook in boiling salted water to cover until soft. Cool, remove skins, and cut in thin slices crosswise. Cover the bottom of a large graniteware pan with potatoes and sprinkle with one-half cup of celery finely chopped, two tablespoons of finely chopped celery, salt and pepper. Mix two tablespoons each of tarragon and elder vinegar, and add four tablespoons of olive oil, and one slice of lemon cut one-third inch thick. Bring slowly to the boiling point, remove lemon, pour over potatoes, cover and let stand in the oven until thoroughly heated.

RECIPES.

Glue in Boiling Starch.

"Editor Standard Woman's Page: I should like to add to the Standard Woman's Page Recipes what I read in a paper twenty years ago. I have since taken many fine magazines and papers, but never have seen it in any of them. When making boiling starch add a small bit of white glue, according to the clothes you have to starch. A pound will last two years, and is about 25 cents a pound. If a little flour is added to the colored clothes it will be a saving, and with the glue will iron beautifully. I have used these for years, and passed the hint on to all my friends, who think the time as I do about them. For black wash dresses and undershirts use the dark glue, such as the furniture stores use, and melt the clear glue—that is, do not use any starch—and you will have a garment just like new. A small amount only will be needed. I hope some one will try and report on this—A. S. W."

RECIPE FOR DILL PICKLES.

"Editor Standard Woman's Page: Will you please publish in the Standard a recipe for dill pickles—those made with dill but without the use of vinegar, kept in a brine?"

"A. M. C." Make a strong brine, strong enough to bear an egg, measure it and add to it half as much fresh water as you have brine. Wash cucumbers in cold water and put them in layers in a stone jar, covering each layer first with a layer of grape leaves, then with one of dill leaves and stems. When the jar is full pour brine over the contents and lay over the top of the jar a cloth, and on a weighted plate. Remove the cloth every few days, wash and replace.

TASTE IN GLOVES.

Taste should be used as discriminately in the wearing of gloves as in the wearing of hats or shoes. It is just as bad taste to wear long white gloves on a shopping expedition as it would be to wear an opera cap on such an occasion. And, soiled white gloves at any time are as distressing as a soiled waist or shoes in need of a shine.

There is a satisfaction and a confidence in knowing that your hands are properly gloved that is well worth the little effort keeping one's gloves in order may entail.

I know a business man so firm in the belief that the glove is an index to a woman's character that he will not engage a girl who applied to him with soiled or unkempt looking gloves. The business girl should pay just as much attention to the gloves she wears to business as to the gloves she wears for dress.

Be careful not to wear gloves that are too tight. They ruin the beauty of the hands by hindering the circulation. In fact, any wearing apparel which impedes circulation, such as tight corsets, closely fitting sleeves or small gloves, tends to distend the veins of the hands and imparts to them a red, puffy appearance.

White gloves make one's hands appear larger, while black gloves have the opposite tendency. Nothing makes the hands look so awkward and deformed as short fingered gloves. When you buy gloves have them fitted. The experienced glove saleswoman can often tell better than you can the style of glove best suited to your hands and the size you should wear. It is false economy to buy cheap gloves. One pair of a good, reliable make of glove will outlast two cheap pairs and will keep their shape and look better during the wearing.

Another foolish glove economy women persist in is taking a "last wear" out of soiled white gloves before they are cleaned. The result is the gloves require more rubbing wear out much more quickly. White gloves will last much longer if they are not allowed to get black before cleaning.

The hands, if not the most important of all the members of the human body, aside from their own beauty and usefulness they perform a wonderfully important part in completing a woman's portrait. So wherever possible the beauty of the hands may be preserved or encouraged by the wearing of gloves they should be worn.

MOTHER'S DAY AT BRIGHAM

Brigham City, May 11.—Mother's day was fittingly observed in the churches of Box Elder county today. In this city the people of the Fourth ward held impressive services at 2 o'clock at which the following program was rendered: Male quartet, "Praying for You," R. T. Willey, Isaac H. Jensen, C. Elias Jensen and Victor E. Hansen. Solo, "The Lord's Prayer," Standing, Henrietta Bott, Maurine Kotter, Wallace Lund, Etta Kerth, Ida Freeman. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the boy scouts of the Fourth ward under the direction of W. V. Call sang "Take Good Care of Mother." Mrs. Oleen N. Stohl delivered an interesting talk to the young ladies.

In Garland the people gathered at the social hall at 8 o'clock in the evening and held splendid Mother's day services under the auspices of the Young Ladies' association of that town and the Ladies' Self-culture club.

The program rendered follows: Invocation, music, Garland choir; reading, Miss Millie Rogers; presentation of pin to Miss Rogers by Mrs. Mosiah Evans, acting on behalf of the Ladies' Self-culture club; violin selection, Wesley Carter; address, President, M. H. Walling of Bear River stake; ladies' quartet, "Baby's Prayer," Prof. Joseph H. Kirkham, reading from Improvement Era, "Mother," by President Joseph F. Smith, John J. Shumway; solo, Miss Essie Foulger; tableaux, under direction of Thales H. Edwards, as follows: "Babyhood," "Childhood," "Girlhood," "Motherhood," "Age."

Similar programs were rendered in practically every church in the county.

LYNCH NEGRO

Hogansville, Ga., May 13.—Samuel Owensby, a negro who yesterday shot dead Brooks Lane, a young farmer, was lynched last night. He was hanged to a tree near the jail and his body riddled with bullets.

HANDSOME BLACK CLOTH SUIT

The brilliant oriental trimmings have made black suits possible that have none of the sombre effect of those of former seasons. The model sketched here is in the form of a three-piece suit, having a skirt attached to a fancy waist that shows a front of bright-waisted moire. The coat closes with black silk buttons and cords and has a collar of the figured moire, edged with black satin. The cuffs are of the same materials and a band of the same makes the skirt drapery and faces the front of the coat. Ivory buttons are used.

DIES FROM BROKEN HEART.

Mrs. David S. Truman died in San Francisco, where she had been taken from Goldfield for medical attention. The lady died from the effects of dropsy primarily caused by the great grief that the lady had suffered for the past three years, or since the mysterious disappearance of her husband, Attorney David S. Truman.

David S. Truman was one of the best known of the Nevada attorneys, and had practiced law all over the state. He was called to San Francisco about three years ago on legal matters. On the day he calculated to return to his home, he had his baggage sent to the depot and checked through to the southern Nevada city, but he never arrived home and has never been heard from. It is now the general accepted belief that he was killed in San Francisco and his body done away with.

P. J. MORAN SECURES $30,000 JUDGMENT

A judgment for $30,000 was granted yesterday to P. J. Moran against the Pacific Reclamation company in the United States district court by stipulation in the case, in which $33,807.24 was asked. The money asked was claimed to be due for work done in the Bishop creek dam, twelve miles north of Wells, Nev.

Three cases were reset for trial June 5. They are: M. C. Peters Mill company and Frank Tovey against the Daly Judge Mining company, and O. Meyers against George Perrell and others. The case of the Utah Copper company against Salt Lake county for the recovery of about $25,000, alleged overpaid taxes, was started yesterday afternoon.

Labor Notes

During last year, by means of the five Canadian fair employment bureaus, in Berlin, Brantford, Hamilton, London and Ottawa, 1903 applicants were provided with situations.

The average increase in wages for all classes of workmen throughout the province of Ontario, Canada, during the past year was 9.58 per cent. This increase was shared by 35,297 persons.

Anthrax is a disease from which sheep suffer. Human beings catch it from infected hides or wool, and for that reason it becomes known as "wool-sorters' disease."

The working time for adult workers is only regulated in a few European states. For instance, Australia and Switzerland 11 hours daily; Russia, 11½ hours; and France, 12 hours daily.

A great organization campaign is scheduled for Los Angeles, to be conducted by men assigned by the various international, for the purpose of thoroughly reorganizing the city of Los Angeles.

The governor of Arkansas, failing to obtain the repeal of the convict lease law and becoming convinced of the ill treatment of prisoners by the lessees, pardoned 360 convicts at one time.

A lockout of 300 printers in Scotland, which the employers threatened, was prevented in the last moment. The parties have decided to discuss the present demands further.

Another labor temple project is reported from Syracuse, N. Y. The seventy-five local unions are expected to subscribe for stock, of which there will be an issue of 10,000 shares at $10 a share.

Directors of the United Baking company, the co-operation bakery started about a year ago by the labor unions of the company are now in excellent condition.

Milwaukee's club for working girls will charge $3.50 to $4.50 a week for three square meals a day, the use of a splendid laundry, wide lawn, large screened porches, parlors and comfortable sleeping rooms.

The name of the International Union Steam Engineers has been changed to International Union of Steam and Operative Engineers and that body has purchased a house in Chicago in which the headquarters are to be installed.

The Tennessee legislature has passed a compulsory education bill, and also a measure creating a state department of workshops and factory inspection and providing for the appointment of a chief inspector.

After a delay of a generation Sweden is about to introduce old age pensions.

The "Co-operative Stores People's Paper" of the Central Union of the German co-operative movement is now to be published fortnightly with a circulation of 500,000 to members of the co-operative organization.

In England the National Union of Teachers, a majority of whom are women, at their annual meeting at Weston-super-Mare, carried by a large majority an amendment to a motion in favor of woman suffrage.

The Swiss federal parliament has decided to call a conference for international workers' protection to deal with the question of the abolition of night work for youths, and the introduction of a legal ten-hour day for females and youths.

The Woodworkers' Union of Victoria, Australia, which has had to pay out over $10,000 in four years for accidents to members, has begun agitation for the accident compensation act which governments have all along promised but not granted.

Vocational schools for girls in Germany provide training in not only the courses in sewing, cooking and serving, but in the wider fields of household economy and management. There are special trade schools for milliners, hairdressers, dressmakers, lace-makers and other textile handworkers.

Since March 1 a united effort has been waged at Paducah, Ky.; Mound City, Ill.; St. Louis, Mo.; Memphis, Tenn.; and Vicksburg, Miss. to establish the eight-hour work day at $3.50 per day for dock or yard men and $4 per day for levee or wharf men.

The employment bureau in connection with the Michigan Printers' Federation has proven a success, in that the local unions of the state are now informed as to the state of trade, and have been able to place a number of men who were out of work or who wished to change.

A study of conditions among the silk workers in the Paterson, N. J., mills shows that one-third of the adult males earned less than $250 a year, that 40 per cent earned from $250 to $350, one-sixth of them from $350 to $1000, and one-twentieth more than $1000. Wage conditions in Paterson are not exceptional.

For the first time in the history of Oklahoma the senate went over the veto power of the chief executive, and by a vote of 31 to 10 repassed the bill requiring railroads to maintain hospital service within the state for their employees, when the funds for the maintenance of such service is provided by employees.

GOLD DUST makes dazzling bright dishes

If you could see your dishes and household utensils through a microscope you would realize that mere soap and water are insufficient to remove the dirt and grease which soiled the surface.

Gold Dust not only cuts dirt and grease with scarcely any rubbing, but is an antiseptic that goes deep after every hidden impurity and germ.

Gold Dust sterilizes your kitchen things, and makes them wholesome and sanitary.

Gold Dust is the greatest labor-saver known.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

Do not use Soap, Naphtha, Borax, Soda, Ammonia, Kerosene with Gold Dust. Gold Dust has a germ-killing, cleaning, polishing, a perfectly harmless and lasting form.

Good for the Children

There's a wealth of health in every can of Rona Cocoa. It's good for growing children—invigorating—nutritious—pleasant-tasting.

Rona Cocoa is a delicious, healthful, and easy to digest food. It's good for the old, too. It's good for the young, too. It's good for the whole family.

Best of all, Rona Cocoa costs only half as much as domestic cocoa, because it goes so far. You use only one-half as much of it as you would of domestic cocoa. It's economical—25¢ can makes 64 cups. Children like it—it's a nourishing food.

Ask your grocer for Rona—the Dutch Cocoa in the big red can. Use it as a beverage or for cakes, puddings, fudges, or sauces. You'll like the rich, smooth, chocolate taste. Try some. You'll see. You'll like it.

CHAUTAUQUA HAS ADDED FEATURES

Additional features for the summer season of the Utah Chautauqua assembly were decided upon at the meeting of the directors last night in the city hall. The preliminary arrangements were cared for and the board decided to begin the sale of tickets on May 20.

Dr. Charles Zebin of Boston, a sociologist, has been secured for this meeting. He will discuss civic questions and the better care of cities. The University of Utah dramatic club will be another feature. Miss Maud May Babcock will have the company under her direction presenting "The Midsummer Night's Dream." Professor Christensen's symphony orchestra of 25 pieces has been engaged for one evening.

Dr. William A. McKeever of Manhattan, Kan., will give a series of lectures on philosophy. Other arrangements on the program were turned over to the program committee headed by Frank M. Driggs.

FORGER IS SENTENCED.

Provo, May 12.—J. W. Handley, the confessed forger who was arrested about ten days ago in Salt Lake and brought here for a hearing, was today sentenced to the state prison for a term of four years on three counts. The total number of forgeries committed by Handley and wife during the past two years is thirty-six, but in the trial only three were taken into account. The total amount of money obtained through this means was over a thousand dollars. Handley will be taken to the penitentiary tomorrow by Sheriff Henry East.

Mrs. Handley has not been sentenced as yet because there are five young children in the Handley home and the court and the sheriff have not fully decided as to what disposition to make of the children. In case Mrs. Handley is sent to the state institution, the court is inclined to mercy in the case of Mrs. Handley, although she confessed to passing more of the checks than did Handley.

DEATH CLAIMS MINER.

Park City, May 12.—Richard Sessions, a miner, died suddenly in the Last Chance saloon at about 5 o'clock this afternoon of heart failure. He had not appeared to be ill and was not known to be afflicted with heart trouble. Nobody noticed anything wrong with him until someone asked him a question and, not receiving an answer, looked at him closely, and saw that he was dead.

Although Sessions was a miner and had been in this camp for about twenty-two years, he had been working for the city during the last three years as an ordinary laborer. He was about 48 years of age and is survived by a wife and three children, who live here.

PRISONERS SEEK PAROLE

Leavenworth, Kan., May 13.—More than 200 applications for parole, six of them from bankers, were listed for consideration by the federal board of paroles here today. Among the bankers who made applications were W. J. Hogue, San Angelo, Texas, and Charles L. Hyde, Pierre, S. D.
